Auckland have moved up a spot to qualify for the semi-final's of the World Cup. Auckland will join New Zealand in the final World Cup round of 16 after a dramatic day of qualifying matches at Castle Park. The Three Chiefs scored the opening goal of the second half to beat Tasman 5-2 and keep their faint hopes alive. South Africa will progress to the semi-finals while Fiji will also make their way through to the World Cup's first 16 sides. Auckland scored a late goal against Samoa to draw level with the Pacific Island side and force an extra time period. Three Chiefs carried on playing from the first kick-off and the scoreline remained 2-2 until a Samoa counter-attack allowed for a quick goal by Tukeva to give Samoa a three-goal cushion in the 47th minute. The Chiefs' second goal came three minutes later when three-goal hero Curwin Bosch was taken from the field with a serious knee injury but returned for the win. The game was back and forth in the final period with the Chiefs' goalkeepers George Naoupu and Liam Mills both keeping Samoa scoreless before the Three Chiefs' late goal. The game was marred by controversy when referee Kim McPherson did not award Auckland a penalty after George Naoupu was caught in the box by a Samoa defender and saw him shoved to the ground. Two minutes later Bosch suffered a serious injury when he was tangled with his own teammate after a collision with the Samoan defender
